SUPERIOR INDIANS

COMPLIMENTED FOR LOOKS AND INDUSTRY.

Observer of Wide Experience Claims the Umatillas Are Superior to the Montana and Nevada Indians—Notes That They Dress, Live and Deport Themselves Better Than the Indians of Most Tribes—Difference May Be Due to Environment.

"The Umatilla is the finest tribe of Indians I ever saw," said Dr. Maybelle Atkins to the East Oregonian today.

"The Montana Indians and the Nevada Indians are not to be compared to them in any respect. Your Umatillas are fine specimens of manhood and womanhood. They dress well, ride in carriages, eat at hotels and restaurants and are more like civilized human beings than any tribe of Indians I have ever met, in my extensive travels over the Northwest.

"Should you tell an Easterner that the Umatilla Indians are educated, wealthy, and many of them highly progressive and industrious citizens, they would scarcely believe it. They think the Indians are practically all savages yet, in the West, and that time and money spent on them is lost.

"The civilizing methods of the government seem to have had a salutary effect on the Umatillas. I am surprised to find these Indians so much advanced. Compared to the Nevada and Montana Indians they are as daylight compared to darkness.

"The general sentiment that the Indian is just a necessary nuisance, is widely distributed among the best classes of people, and I am so glad to see one tribe advanced so high along the lines of citizenship and Christian civilization. True, they may not be as perfect as we would have them. They may love strong drink, and be immoral and in many respects uncivilized. Yet, when I see the children in school, the parents riding in carriages and dressing like whites, driving good teams, instead of riding scrubby little ponies, I am thrilled with the result of the education of the redman.

"The surrounding of such a tribe as the Umatilla seems to be, must be responsible for much of the high character of the Indian, and I think the advancement and progress of these Indians is largely due to the encouragement given the many association with a good class of white citizens."

Keeps Out the Cold

The normal temperature of the body is 98.4 degrees. It is very essential to health and comfort that this temperature be maintained at all times. A chamolais vest or chest protector helps to do it.

Keeps in the Heat

and protects the body from cold winds and sudden weather changes. Guards the wearer from the dangers of pneumonia, coughs, colds, etc. Everyone should wear one. We have a complete stock of chamolais vests and chest protectors.

MRS. BURROUGHS' FATHER DEAD

Idaho Pioneer and Argonaut Passed Away at Boise City.

Speaking of the death of Judge Alonzo P. Turner of Boise City, father of Mrs. B. S. Burroughs of this city, the Evening Capital News of Boise, says:

Judge Alonzo P. Turner, an old-timer, died at his residence at 906 O'Farrell street, yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. Judge Turner was well known to the old-timers of Boise and Idaho. He was born in Ohio in 1823. His father was district judge of Wadsworth, where the deceased was raised. In 1852 Judge Turner came west. He lived for a number of years in Oregon, taking a prominent part in the Indian war of that period.

Judge Turner was among the argonauts who discovered gold in the Boise Basin, where he lived for a number of years and served two terms as probate judge of that county. When gold was discovered on Wood river he went there and for a number of years he was engaged in mining, being at one time part owner of the Idahoan, a prominent mine in that country.

In 1881 he married Miss Sarah L. Smith, a woman of rare culture and refinement, who was at that time teaching in the Methodist school in Salt Lake. Mrs. Turner survives her husband.

By his former marriage he had five children, all of them living in the East, except Mrs. B. S. Burroughs, of Pendleton, Oregon. By his last wife, he had two children, Grace and Elmer. The former is teaching school near Bellevue and the latter is residing with his mother.

Judge Turner served a term as probate judge of Blaine county, from 1899 to 1902, in addition to his services in Boise county.

For the last few years he had been an invalid and was watched over and cared for by his faithful wife. She brought him to Boise last September hoping the climate there might prove helpful. His lungs were weak and this was made more pronounced by being thrown from a buggy, breaking his ribs and injuring him internally.

Judge Turner was a man of strong, clear intellect; a faithful friend; a good citizen, a loving husband and father. He was known and respected by all the pioneers.

Fraternal Brotherhood.

Mrs. L. L. Buford, of Portland, accompanied by Miss Mina Nesbitt, is in the city reorganizing and assisting the Fraternal Brotherhood recently organized here. The order has about 25 members in the city and meets each Thursday night. It is a fraternal insurance society and is largely distributed over the west, the headquarters being in Los Angeles. Mrs. Buford is deputy supreme president and is actively engaged in organizing new branches of the order in Eastern Oregon. Miss Nesbitt is a resident of Goldendale and is assisting Mrs. Buford in her work in this city.

Funeral of Mrs. Castle.

The funeral of Mrs. George L. Castle, who died Tuesday afternoon at her home in this city, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Christian church. Rev. N. H. Brooks officiated. Interment was at Olney cemetery.

Athena's Water Supply.

The city of Athena is making every effort to secure a larger and more certain supply of city water. It is possible that water may be piped from two large springs five miles south of the city. A survey is now being made.

FOURTH OF SERIES

BOWLERS ARE GROWING MUCH IN EFFICIENCY.

Constant Improvement Is Noted—Anderson's Team Won Out in Last Night's Games—Kelley, Anderson, Mays and Kees Will Play Tomorrow Night for the Brunswick Prize—Bowling Promises to Be the Fad of the Coming Winter With Society.

The fourth game of the bowling series was played at the Brunswick last night between Kelley's "Shamrocks" and Anderson's team. High scores were made, and the teams show constant improvement.

Kelley's "Shamrocks."

	1st	2nd	3rd	Total
Kidder	130	126	161	417
Hawley	156	167	125	448
Burchett	129	153	145	427
Bond	120	134	153	407
Kelley	148	176	185	509

Total 2298

Anderson's Team.

	1st	2nd	3rd	Total
Wyrick	121	156	180	457
Stevens	178	119	168	465
Witlock	136	145	149	430
Robinson	181	132	158	471
Anderson	150	177	149	476

Total 2299

The following table shows the standing of the teams at the time.

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Average.
Kelley	3	2	1	2161
Anderson	2	2	0	2056
Thompson	2	0	2	1993
Rader	3	1	2	2091

The following four players holding the highest records will play for the regular monthly prize to be given by the Brunswick, tomorrow night:

Kelley	243.
Anderson	210
Mays	210.
Kees	241.

The Brunswick bowling parlor is coming to be one of the most popular resorts in the city. Many private bowling parties are in contemplation for the winter, and as the exercise is healthful it promises to be one of the fads of the season.

CLEANER MUST GO.

Steps Taken to Abate Alleged Nuisance in West End.

The city council held a very brief session last night. There was practically nothing of importance to be considered, and after the adoption of the monthly salary list, the mayor was suggesting that adjournment be taken, when Councilman Murphy searched in the closet of dead issues and dragged forth the remains of the carpet cleaner.

The councilmen held their noses and two or three tried to hide the thing from sight, but Murphy was firm. "The cleaner has got to go," he declared. "I am a believer in peace and quiet, and I don't want any harm to come to the mayor's property—the mayor owns the building in which the cleaner of Hinkle fame is located—but I am afraid we will make fire bugs and criminals of the people of the cleaner neighborhood, if we don't abate it."

Someone suggested that the machine was acting very nice when the councilmen and mayor visited it last week.

"Yes, but we had hardly got back home," continued Murphy, "until a woman phoned me that the thing was rattling and sneezing more dust than ever. I could hear the machine over the phone."

A vote was taken, and the verbal report of the committee that the cleaner be abated was adopted.

WILLIS AN OPTIMIST.

Deplores the Habit of Farmers Borrowing Trouble.

Editor H. C. Willis of the Echo News is an optimist in the true sense of the word. He believes in never crossing a bridge until one comes to it. He does not look upon a long, pleasant, dry fall as an indication that a freeze-out is to come, or that crops next season will be light.

"In California," he remarked, "there are certain farmers who for the past 20 years have each season occupied the anxious seat. They always expect a bad crop, or no crop at all, because of some peculiar cast that the countenance of the weather has taken on. But, somehow or other, they generally manage to pull through and get enough wheat to pay them for their trouble. Here in Umatilla, where we have better soil and better crop conditions, we have even less cause for worry."

"I am afraid many of our farmers are constituted like the condemned criminal who didn't look for a reprieve. 'I am not hoping for the best,' he remarked, 'but expect to be hanged. If I escape punishment I am bound to be agreeably surprised, and if my neck is stretched I won't be disappointed.'"

IN EASTERN OREGON.

Testimony of a Practical Irrigator Is Given in Portland.

D. C. Brownell, who is largely interested in irrigation in Umatilla and Morrow counties, is in Portland on business, says the Telegram. He has several hundred acres now under ditch, near Irrigon, where he is converting the sand dunes of the Columbia river valley into rich meadows, where tons of alfalfa may be grown. A ditch four miles long taps the Umatilla river, he says, and the water has been flowing over the level stretches of what was once waste land.

"We can raise anything in that portion of Eastern Oregon with the aid of water," he said today, "and lands that were completely valueless can be made worth $100 an acre. All the fruits of the north temperate zone, as well as all northern-grown vegetables, can be produced in abundance, as the soil is very rich. The region is an arid one, however, and crops cannot be depended on unless irrigation is resorted to."

Mr. Brownell says ex-Councilman Holbrook, of Portland, has a large system of irrigation in operation and has already sold over $250,000 worth of lands to intending settlers, who will proceed to make the land productive. Besides this, Mr. Holbrook has a good many thousand acres of his own which he has acquired from the government and from the Northern Pacific railroad, which has owned every odd-numbered section in that region.

BAZAAR IS OPEN.

Armory Hall Is a Dazzle of Light and Color.

With an elaborate array of beautiful and useful articles on display, and a plentiful supply of choice eatables at the various booths, the Presbyterian bazaar opened this afternoon at Armory hall.

The decorations in the hall are attractive and beautiful, the booths are artistically arranged and the supply of articles for sale is large and varied.

The work of preparing the booths was pushed rapidly this morning and everything is in readiness for the opening tonight, although the bazaar was opened for business from 2:30 this afternoon. A musical program will be given this evening, and the hall will be beautifully lighted and arranged.

There will be a varied supply of choice articles of use and ornamentation for sale; the Dutch, Mexican and poultry booths will sell eatables, and tea and chocolate will be served. The women have prepared an elaborate supply of fancy work, garments, cushions, handkerchiefs, art designs and other things too numerous to classify in a short description.

The bazaar will continue this evening, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow evening. Music will be furnished each evening and hot tamales, hot tea, coffee and chocolate will be for sale at all times.

The Indians will give an exhibition of the war dance, Mrs. Goey, wife of the Chinese merchant, will serve tea, and the Japanese trio will sing a native song.

Every preparation has been made to have a pleasant and entertaining time during the two days, and everyone is cordially invited to visit the bazaar and enjoy the good time promised.

Marriage License.

License to marry was issued this morning by the county clerk to C. N. Reynolds and Miss Jessie Viola Beach. Miss Beach is not yet 17 years of age.

WHAT CAME OF A LETTER.

My Dear Aunt Kate: I must tell you the good news. Right after receiving your letter, the day before New Year's I started in with new resolutions on the first of the year. I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., as you requested me to do. I gave him all my symptoms, which were that I was tired—so tired—all the time and did not care to go anywhere, depressed and sad, and all ambition gone, backache and a dragged-out feeling, could not sleep, limbs feeling sore and aching. I followed the doctor's advice, which he went to considerable pains to make plain to me—to rest every day—a nap after lunch—complete relaxation—cultivate repose of mind, try not to worry, get as much outdoor air as possible, and practice long, deep breathing, expanding the lungs. Then for a uterine tonic, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, coupled with a wash he told me of. I must say that after following his advice for four months I feel perfectly cured and like a new woman.

Yours affectionately, JEWELL. Letters like the above are not unusual. Mrs. Kooman, of 322 Grant Ave., Schenectady, N. Y., says: "I continued with the medicine until I had taken five bottles, also two vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I was cured. I always recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to my friends when they are not well."

"My daughter is in quite good health, thanks to Dr. Pierce's medicines. My wishes are that all who are afflicted will try them and see what good can be done for the sick," writes Mrs. Elizabeth McConeil, of Rochester, Ind.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages.

Man wants but little here below,

The statement causes mirth,

It may have been so long ago,

But now he wants the earth.

We have some very desirable pieces of real estate, farms, ranches and city lots, with or without buildings, which we are offering at prices that make them good investments. Money put in Pendleton and Umatilla county real estate will increase in value rapidly.
